You can picture yourself in trouble

U. E. Baughman
Chief, U. S. Secret Service Treasury Department

Nearly 50 years ago Congress passed a law prohibiting the photographing of obligations and securities of the United States, which includes our paper money. In the past half century many newspapers and magazines have violated the law, mostly because they did not know about it, or because they decided that it did not apply to newspaper or magazine illustrations. This article is an attempt to clarify such misunderstandings.

Actually there are two Federal laws which affect reproductions in the likeness of paper money and other obligations of the United States. One is Title 18, U. S. Code 474, which reads in part:

"Whoever prints, photographs, or in any other manner makes or executes any engraving, photograph, print, or impression in the likeness of any such obligations or other security, or any part thereof, or sells any such engraving, photograph, print, or impression, except to the United States, or brings into the United States any such engraving, photograph, print, or impression, except by direction of some proper officer of the United States * shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than fifteen years, or both."

The other law is Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 475, which was amended June 16, 1951 to read as follows:

"Whoever designs, engraves, prints, makes, or executes, or utters, issues, distributes, circulates, or uses any business or professional card, notice, placard, circular, handbill, or advertisement in the likeness or similitude of any obligation or security of the United States issued under or authorized by any Act of Congress or writes, prints, or otherwise impresses upon or attaches to any such instrument, obligation, or security, or any coin of the United States, any business or professional card, notice, or advertisment, or any notice or advertisement whatever, shall be fined not more than $500."

Of great importance is the fact that both laws prohibit reproductions "in the likeness of" obligations of the United States — and Section 474 also carries the words, "or any part thereof," which means that the photographing or printing of any design which is in the likeness of any portion of an obligation or security of the United States is unlawful.

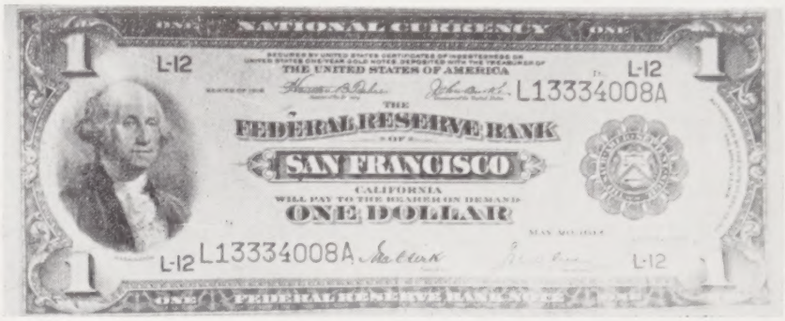
For the sake of further clarity, here is a definition of the words, "obligation or other security of the United States," as given in Title 18, U. S. Code, Section8:

"The term 'obligation or other security of the United States' includes all bonds, certificates of indebtedness, national bank currency, Federal Reserve notes, Federal bank notes, coupons, United States notes, Treasury notes, gold certificates, silver certificates, fractional notes, certificates of deposit, bills, checks, or drafts for money, drawn by or upon authorized officers of the United States, stamps and other representatives of value, of whatever denomination, issued under any Act of Congress, and canceled United States stamps."

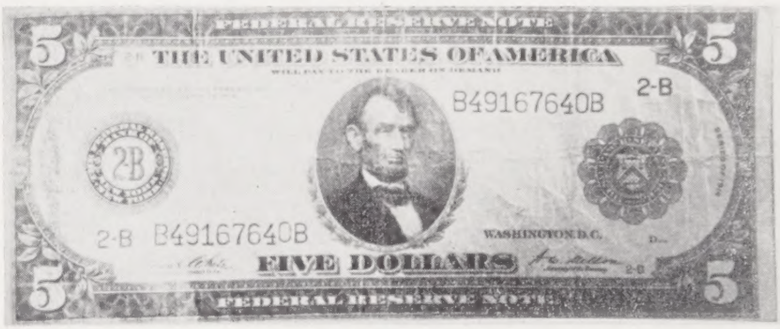
The laws are plain. You cannot, without proper authority, make an engraving, photograph, print, or other impression of an obligation or security of the United States, or any part of such obligation or security. You cannot make, circulate or use any advertisement in the likeness of any such obligation or security, or part thereof.

Illustrations of Coins

Before July 16, 1951, the Federal law prohibited illustrations of coins, but on that date an amendment was adopted (Public Law 79, 82nd Congress, approved July 16, 1951), which removed the restriction on photographs and printed illustrations of coins. The law, however, does prohibit the manufacture, sale or use of them.



One Dollar U.S. series 1918, Bank of San Francisco. The reverse shows a large bald eagle carrying the American Flag in flight. Value of this bill is $10.00 in V.F. condition.



Five Dollar Federal Note, issued by the Bank of New York. Series of 1914 with portrait of Lincoln. Value $17.50 Unc.

DANGERS INVOLVED

What danger lies in making photographs of money, or advertisements which resemble money? The U. S. Secret Service, which is charged with the enforcement of the counterfeiting laws, has had cases where newspaper photographs of counterfeit paper money have been clipped from papers and passed as genuine notes. It has had cases where so-called "play money" and even "rubber money" has been successfully passed as the real thing.

Most counterfeit bills today are made by photoengraving processes, which begin with a photographic negative. There is no implication that a reputable publisher would photograph a $10 bill to illustrate a story in his publication, and then use the negative to produce a counterfeit plate, but in at least one case the Secret Service arrested an employee of a newspaper who used the paper's facilities after hours to make plates for counterfeit $1 bills. The photographic negative of money which is made with good intentions and which later falls into unscrupulous hands is one danger which the strict enforcement of the law can prevent.

It is possible, of course, to photograph paper money so that no part of the money is "in the likeness" of genuine money. The distance of the camera from the object, the angle at which the photograph is taken, the sharpness of focus, all are important factors in avoiding a degree of "likeness" which would be in conflict with the law. The safest way to avoid a violation, of course, is to refrain entirely from photographing paper money, Government checks, or other obligations.

MItchell 3-1153 AD FORMS CLOSE THE 20th OF EACH MONTH.

Entered as second class matter October 13, 1956 at the post office of Newark, New Jersy under the act of March 3, 1879.

From Your Editor's Desk —

With this issue we will be in the year of 1958, what the future will hold no one can really forecast, the 1957 proof set has broken all previous records with over 1,000,000 orders — (indicating things to come). What will 1958 be like?

SILVER DOLLARS are still available in quantity with the low mintage still being offered at bargain low prices. This is due to their being released these past few years through the constant demand from the collectors and store merchants during the holidays. These low minted pieces will have been absorbed and should start to climb up in price in the future.

The INDIAN HEAD AND LINCOLN CENTS have been very active, Indian cent rolls valuing $4.50 per 100. The Lincoln cents of interest are 1915-P, 1923-S, 1933-P, 1933-D, these pieces are getting hard to find especially in fine or better. It is rumored only some 800,000 1933-P were released in 1933 due to the depression.
Newfoundland Series should show new interest and an upward trend in price. This series has many low minted years with their price premium very low compared with the U.S. series. The Whitman Publishing Company has put forth folders to house the Newfoundland collections they are now on the dealers shelves. With this in mind, low mintage, and many being offered for sale at reasonable prices there may be a run on this series. Carmichael's Coin Co. of Toronto, Canada has sent me his new 1958 Edition part (2. a) for review and comment. This new catalogue contains many illustrations of series and types, listing coins, tokens and currency. The contents information and booklet its self is well worth the selling price of $1.00.

Your Editor would like to publish the much needed information and news items of Canadian series, but we need your help and support in the way of comments, news items, new varieties and advertisements. With your help and plugging we hope to build our "Canadian Column" into a (section).

Al. Rosen of the (Collector's Centre Exchange) of Toronto, Canada made the following comments in a recent letter. The front page layout of the December issue with the nice Mint Errors' was very interesting. That he also has a similar collection, only that it is a Canadian series. He has found a new variety on the 1909 Edward Cent and is convinced there are many more unconfirmed varieties plus proof singles that were not recorded. Sorting some 3,000 1926 nickels he is convinced there are (3) varieties instead of (2), ending his letter with the fact the 1957 nickel supply is very short and the speculators will go all out for them.

ITEM OF INTEREST—checking our files and circulation it was interesting to note we still have most of our earliest subscribers to our "Eaglet", their F.E. file numbers 1 and 2 digits up the line to the (4) figures we are happy to continue the New Year with them and the thousands of other subscribers. We are now circulating over 3,000 copies per month. This figure may not look fabulously large but we are proud of it, as it took 2½ years of hard work to reach this figure. With your continued help and support we hope to better serve you with a better, interesting, informative and enjoyable magazine.

Here is a list of a few of the oldest subscribers in their respective order.

Purchasing items from advertisements Coins are offered for sale in the following manner: By Fixed Price—the price quoted by the seller; Or by Auction, where there is no price quoted but solicited. In this method of sale a lot number is given to each item. You enter a bid along side of the lot of your choosing, which can be higher or lower than (price guide if one is listed). The high bidder, being the buyer. After the closing date, the advertiser will notify those who are the highest bidder. Unless credit is arranged, payment is required before shipment is made.

THE PUBLISHER reserves the right to edit or reject any ads or news they deem objectionable and will not be responsible for letters written by hand. Please send cash with ads. All advertising cuts to be furnished by advertisers or send cash amount to cover expense of having it made. Send articles, news items of interest for print, to the Editor.

Manufacturers supply and material prices will be honored. No cut-rate ads of same will be accepted in order to protect name brand company prices.

We accept advertising in GOOD FAITH. All transactions will be solely between the advertisers and the purchaser.
Opinions expressed by writers of articles, columns, comments, etc. in this magazine are their own and do not necessarily represent the views of the editors or officers.

When writing for information to dealers or collectors, be kind enough to enclose a stamp for a response. It's been my pleasure to say practically all dealers and collectors are honest and fair. No trades are final until both parties are satisfied. On purchases it is customary to give at least a 3 day satisfactory refund.

GRADING STANDARD

PROOF—Coin, a mirror-like finish, especially struck for collectors on polished metal blanks and struck by slower hydraulic press to obtain best feature lines.

UNCIRCULATED made for general circulation has lustre but never reaches circulation. A Gem Unc. is unusually well struck has lustre no scratches, rubbings or mars.

EXTRA FINE & A. U.—about same. Coin is about uncirculated, slightly worn on high points and may have some mint lustre.

V. FINE—Has been circulated but all features and lettering are sharp.

FINE—Has all features and lettering but not sharp. Liberty is readable.

V. G.—Has border rims most features and lines visible. Part of Liberty visible.

FAIR—Considerably worn.

POOR—Considerably worn smooth, or corroded, good only as space filler.

This grading is used only as a guide to help you and is a general medium used by all dealers and collectors in the Numismatic field.

POINTS TO LOOK FOR ON SOME POPULAR COINS.

1 CENT LINCOLN: The lines on wheat ear are a good spot to look for wear. On a coin classed as very good most lines should be showing, on a coin graded fine they should be sharp.

5 CENT LIBERTY: E Pluribus Unum is legible on coins graded good, clear on coins graded very good. One graded fine should have full liberty.

5 CENT BUFFALO: On a good coin edge of word Liberty may be slightly worn, but on one graded very good the word Liberty is clear and one-half of horn shows, a fine coin should have nearly a full horn, and coin classed as very fine has full horn and tail shows on hip.

10 CENT MERCURY: Watch lines on fasces, on coins classed very good some fasces lines show, a fine coin should have most all lines.

FOR BEGINNERS who are just starting to collect, here are a few suggestions and some advice. First, a coin guide book is a must. They can be purchased for $1.00 or more for helpful information: on care, condition, value, amount minted, types, how coins are made, and other news of help and interest. Most coins can be found in circulation. As you are making your set always try to improve the worn coins. Value of coins depends greatly on the condition. Never clean or polish coins unless you are experienced. If you must try, use a common date coin. There are handy cleaning kits available for this purpose. Coin insert folders and other supplies can be obtained at your dealer. You may also notice that the age of old coins do not make them rare. There are some late date coins minted that are worth more than some hundreds of years old. What makes one coin worth more than another are by these factors: Amount of coins minted, availability, collectors demand and any unusual die strikes. Coins can be obtained through purchases, by auctions or trading with collectors. Mint sets can be bought by writing the Treasury Dept., U. S. Office of Treasury, Washington 25, D. C., at face value, plus postage and handling. To obtain Proof Sets of current year send $2.10 money order to Supt. Phila. Mint 16th and Spring Garden Streets, Philadelphia, Pa. You may order as many sets as you wish. Commemorative half dollars are authorized periodically by Congress. These halves when issued are not sold by the mints. they are turned over to a Commission authorized by Congress at face value. The Commission then sells the halves at a premium.

SILVER DOLLAR TEST

Silver dollars have more uses then one, note this one being held between the knees of these shapely legs. Years ago, Mr. Ziegfeld, originator of the "Ziegfeld Follies" personally selected the most beautiful girls with shapely legs for his shows. His method of casting was by placing a silver dollar between the show girls knees, if the dollar could stay in place without falling she got the job.

A WISH COME TRUE

"I wish I could see and touch a million dollars!" Carole Deising, 14, of 2448 Post Rd., Fairfield, Conn., wrote yearningly to the New York Mirror's "I Wish Editor."

And presto! There she was, her wish granted as executives of the Chemical Corn Exchange Bank, 165 Broadway, trotted stacks and stacks of bills out of the vault and piled them in a glorious tower as high as her chest.

"Oh, It's so nice!" Carole squealed happily digging right in with both hands-though not for keeps.

GRADING AND POINTS OF WEAR

This photo set up shows five Lincoln cents in (5) different conditions. The main points determining their conditions are the Ear line sharpest and the lines of the wheat stalks. Some collectors use the collar or bow tie to further define condition. I have noted many collectors use the wheat lines alone for grading. I feel a combination of both the ear and wheat lines to be more accurate.

There are many of these cents with weak strikes, usually the reverse impression is weak on this type.

If you will note the photo, left to right you will see the different conditions, Good to X.F. Note the ear and wheat lines as they increase in sharpness in better grades.

Mint Mark positions and size have been noted to be different sizes and positions. This is attributed to a new order or die defect. Instead of making up a new die, the engraver inserts a new mint mark, as a rule it is never in the same position. It may be unusually high, low, or off to the sides. The size of the mint mark is probably due to the different engraver on the job at that time.

Your comments and suggestions on grading is welcomed by the Editor.

GRADING STANDARDS

The beginning of a series.

by Earl McBrayer

Most serious collectors in the United States today are condition collectors. They desire to improve their displays by replacing each specimen with a more attractive coin whenever possible. A dealer recently told your writer that many of his customers were not even interested in coins of dates they did not have which graded less than fine. The condition of his coins then, is an important consideration for the new collector who wishes to enjoy his hobby and protect his investment as well.

This would explain the big difference in value between coins of popular series that grade fine and extremely fine. Most all dealers and collectors are honest but unfortunately there are a few unscrupulous sharpshooters who grade coins too highly and make their 'Florida' money from deliberate misrepresentation. Word gets around as to who these persons are and reliable publications soon eliminate them from their advertising clientele. THE FLYING EAGLET would appreciate hearing of any such operators.

'How does one learn to grade coins,' and 'who establishes grading standards,' are two of the questions that the beginning collector asks the more experienced numismatist. Standards of grading vary somewhat since there are no official patented rules but most collectors follow the grading standard as published in The FLYING EAGLET.

Everyone knows that practice makes perfect and a written guide for grading goes just so far. The best way to learn grading therefor, is by comparison with fellow collectors. Some clubs have contests and a popular 'bull' session before and after the meeting where this may be done. In articles to follow this one we will consider the grading of individual series of coins in this colums.

DEFECTIVE PROOF NICKEL

This photo shows a defective 5 cent piece in a mint sealed holder, note the missing part at the lower right side. Mrs. Loraine Laino, of 324 East 29th St., Brooklyn, N.Y. is the proud owner of this scarce (mint error). Mrs. Laino, welcomes any comments, and is interested in knowing its value. Reports have been received stating some 1957 sets having (2) separate cents, another (2) nickels and the last one a missing cent. Proof coins are specially struck for collectors and seldom if any, are found to be defective. This year being the largest amount struck probably caused these errors.

SEIZE PAIR WITH 3,000 PHONY $100. BILLS

NICE, France, Dec. — French police arrested two Corsicans today and accused them of counterfeiting "nearly absolutely perfect copies" totaling $1,000,000 in $100 bills. Officials said the United States money had been distributed in the port cities of Nice, Villefranche, Marseilles, and Genoa.

PAPER MONEY ROUND-UP

Those Mystic Digits

By Harold Don Allen

The modern bank note has so much to it that the first glimpse of a new currency sets up a conflict in which half a dozen or more characteristics vie to catch the collector's eye. Just what do we see first on viewing a new bill? I expect the psychologists could weave quite a few paragraphs about this point, but it is certain that no two people react in exactly the same way to seeing anything new. So with paper currency, the non-numismatic man-in-the-street tends to look to the ornate denomination-device, and respond, as he deems appropriate, according to whether he sees a "1000" or a "1". But, the seasoned traveller scrutinizes country of origin, currency and date of issue. Accordingly, your self-styled handwriting expert could have himself a field day reading character from the incredible diversity of signature types that adorn the modern world's monetary notes. Me, I confess a weakness for serial numbers. Stick with me for a few paragraphs and I'll show you just how far this sort of semi-numismatic delving can go.

My bright new Brazilian cruzeiro, worth all of 1½ cents, bears a six-digit serial number, 094031, and a further overprint, "Serie 2444A". My ten cruzeiros (big money!) reads, from top to bottom, "Estampa 2A, Serie 954A, 061970". Which, at a first glance, seems to add up only to that they have an awful lot of low-value bills, as well as coffee, in Brazil! True, but a little digging reveals that the red numbers have far more to tell. For one thing, Brazil circulates two issues of these denominations, side by side. One issue is produced by that venerable New York City firm of engravers and security printers, the American Bank Note Company. The other originates with the equally renowned British firm of Thomas de la Rue. Each printer runs his own serial numbers. "Estampa 2A" merely means the British sequence. The "A" is the Portugese equivalent of our "nd", "th" or "st". Yet, series number 2,444 sounds ponderous, even without the terminal "A". At 1,000,000 notes to the series, it would indicate over two billion notes! Obviously, one assumpion or the other, the 2,444 series or the million-note total must be wrong. Surprisingly, the mistake will be found to lie with the "million". While the serial number undeniably boasts six digits, we look long before we find anything other than a zero in the initial space! The series, rather, is of 100,000. The first digit is there merely to provide a space for the sixth figure of the 100,000th note!

Such a condition proves anything but unique. Wads of foreign currency are quick to give up the secret when initial zeros are merely to make room for the extra digit of the final note.

In fact, initial zeros nearly always pose a delemma. Unless the note series is one with which you are familiar, how are you to know if those extra places were subsequently used up? The Canadian $1000 bill of 1937 never lost its "A" series and three initial zeros, in 17 years. Some French and French colonial bills, with up to ten digits, have initial zeros as the expected thing. Only a few series have lasted long enough to replace them with figures that count. Series letters can be even more perplexing. A prefix of letters and numbers can mean a powerfully large issue, or can just be telling a date or denomination or place of issue, or saying the same thing twice, to catch counterfeiters off guard.

Close to home are to be found many examples of serial numbers performing multiple functions. Serial numbers on small-size U. S. currency come in five colours. Each colour designates a different kind of note. Thus, a yellow number picks out a Gold Certificate, a red a United States Note. To go one step further, the green number of a Federal Reserve Note gives a key to its district of issue, through the final letter. The only surprise to the complexities of U.S. currency numbering (How different from earlier series, which started with a humble but eye-catching "1"!) is that the serial number offers no clue as to denomination. In Canada, the prefix is in the form of a "fraction", and the lower letter tells the face value of the note.

Serial numbers will conceal their secrets, unless we dig! Little has been written on the subject, but rarely are such matters intentionally obscured. A little searching in bank archives, and we had no trouble unearthing the fact that the serial numbers of most pre-1935 Canadian chartered bank issues numbered the sheets (of four) and not the notes. Normally,a black series letter, denoting position on the sheet, appeared somewhere on the face of the note.

Low serial numbers, high ones, and such odd ones as "12345678" and "7070707" have undeniable appeal to many currency enthusiasts. But, beware (if you are a beginner) of "very low" serial numbers that are not serial umbers at all. Many Japanese and Korean bills, particularly low values, have red numbers of one to four digits, which look like low serials. These are lot numbers. That near-universal 1 Yen, with the rooster, may come with a number like "147922". Even this is not a serial number: I've two with this the identical digits. It is a lot number, and I've yet to see a note of this issue which failed to end in the digits "22".

The GERMAN THALER (Dollar)

This silver coin is the approximate size of our U.S. dollar. Dated 1763 it was minted during the early German Empire.

Thalers were first minted in the early 15th century from Bohemian silver at Joachimsthal. One theory has it, it derived from the shortening of Joachimsthaler to thaler, hence to dollar. Another theory is, it was derived from (talent) a Medieval gold pound, which was the Dutch name (Daler).

The Dollar was adopted by Spain, the American merchants and sailors soon became familiar with the dollar through their travels. In the year of 1792 the American Congress established its first mint to strike coins for the colonies, which was based on the Dollar, "value of a Spanish Milled Dollar."

LETTERS

Dear Mr. Spadone:

Enclosed you will find Display ad copy for the Jan. issue of the Flying Eaglet and remittance for same.

Felicitations! My keyed contract ad which appears in Flying Eaglet (and other numismatic magazines) pulled top honors for one month. Orchids and The Season's Greetings to you and the Flying Eaglet.

—Freak Coin House
Buffalo, Missouri

—o—

Dear Sir:

Enclosed $2.00 to renew my Flying Eaglet for another year. I found out how to take a cleaned up coin and make it look natural again. My 1931-S cent was cleaned with eraser so I put it out on window sill for 5 weeks. It lost the glow and is now natural looking like the rest.

—Robert J. Kirk
Phila., Pa.

—o—

Dear Frank:

I advertised in your paper last year and the early part of this year and wasn't too successful with the results, but since starting again for the last few issues the results have been most gratifying. Keep up the good work.

—Ed. Bushman
Racine, Wisconsin

Mr. Ransom of New York would like to know from our readers of the where abouts of (3) currency bills sold separately of the "Hibernia Iron Works" of North N. J. They were sold through the "Spiro" auction sale. Information of their owners and where abouts is appreciated.

—J. Ransom

Dear Sirs:

Enclosed is my copy display ad. to appear in the Jan. issue of the Flying Eaglet.

My last adv. in your Oct. issue had more response than any coin advertisement I have run in any other coin publication in the past two years.

It seems your coin magazine is coming to the top in leaps and bounds. More power to you, it makes me happy to see your coin magazine such a success.

—Pioneer Coin Shop
Woodland Park, Colo.

Dear Frank:

I have been a subscriber to "The Flying Eaglet" for the past year, and have enjoyed every issue very much. At the beginning of each month I look forward to reading your magazine from cover to cover. I am only a small collector and have just about a year and a half of interest behind me in regard to coins. However, I have already found it to be an informative and most interesting hobby. Your monthly publication has helped make it such.

It is with these thoughts in mind that I am enclosing two dollars in order to renew my subscription for another year. Within the next couple of months I hope to send you my first ad.

—William A. Priestley
Hightstown, N. J.

Dear Sir:

Thanks for your letter of Nov. 16th. Your discovery of a distinguished detail on the large and small motto 2¢ pieces is very interesting.

I have made a note to insert the following in the next edition of the GUIDE BOOK, page 84: "Letter T in TRUST touches ribbon crease at left on small motto variety; there is a 1/32" gap on the large motto variety".

Thanks again for your kindness in writing me about this. I think it will be helpful to the collector, as you have described it.

Very truly yours,
Whitman Publishing Company

BALTIMORE COIN CLUB

November 7th Meeting

Guests were introducted and minutes of second October meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Russell announced that Mr. Malanowski has agreed to exhibit his prize winning display at some future meeting.

A copy of the latest edition of the Standard Catalogue was donated to the library.

Bob Hall, scheduled speaker of the evening, commenced his talk by defining various "cults" interested in numismatic items. They were broken down into three general classes—1st, the numismatist; 2nd, the collector; 3rd the accumulator.

The numismatist is a person who studies items. He examines specimens and compares them with similar pieces. He takes delight in discovering minor differencies and attempts to find out why there is a variant.

The collector saves pieces because he likes their appearance, they are different from pieces already in his possession, series are to be completed, they make good display items and for many other reasons. When he acquires a duplicate he is willing to pass one copy along to another interested party.

The accumulator saves all items he can come by provided they fit in with series in which he is interested. All items are permanently impounded and none are released during the life of the accumulator.

Bob says that everybody should collect according to their individual tastes but all should attempt to improve the quality of their items as well as the magnitude of the collection.

He also spoke on buying, preserving, displaying and leading others.

TORONTO COIN CLUB

The meeting of October 26th was attended by 26 members and 10 guests. President Fred. C. Jewett presided.

The guests included: Major Sheldon S. Carroll, of London, formerly of Ottawa, who is a Past President of the Canadian Numismatic Association. Mr. Shep. Meyers, President of the Newcastle Coin Club of Newcastle, Penna., U.S.A., and Mr. R. C. Willey of Espanola and Mr. Redvers C. Butler of Copperscliff.

Mr. J. E. Charlton, our speaker of the meeting, reviewed the trends of Canadian numismatic material, and commented on a number of the changes in values, which have, and have not, taken place over the past fifty years, as recorded in dealer and auction lists of half a century ago.

Mr. Charlton performed the honours with regards the admittance coin draw, to the satisfaction of Mr. Bert. Peddie, whose number came up!

DELAWARE VALLEY COIN CLUB

The January meeting will have Mr. C. E. Tuckwood of Phila., he will speak on Biblical Coins. He will bring some interesting coins and slides to illustrate his talk. Convention is Harrisburg and Atlantic City are coming up. Plan to attend.

Visitors and guests are invited to attend the meetings held at 8 P. M a "Red Men's Hall, 711 N. Broad St., Woodbury, N. J. Meetings are held on the 3rd Monday of each month.

The Pacific Coast Numismatic Society celebrated its 500th Meeting in the good old PCNS style, breaking all known attendance records with a total of 81 at this meeting — 55 members and 26 guests. There were only 12 exhibits, but plenty of excitement. Nine Past Presidents of the Society were presented with a silver medal bearing on the obverse the PCNS emblem and on the reverse was engraved the recipient's name and the years he served as president of the Society. DON RHODES catalogued and conducted a 100 lot auction sale and many fine coins were sold. Assisting him in the auction were NEAL McKINLEY and EARL PARKER.

The LIBERTY BELL COIN CLUB of Phila., Pa. is one eyar old today. Membership totals 32 and a goal of obtaining 50 members by the first of 1958 has been set. The officers for the year were: Pres; Pat Vassalluzzo, Vice Pres; Don Perri, Sect; Joseph Weintraub, Treas; Max Newman, Sgt. at Arms; Harold Sullivan. The officers for the year 1958 will remain the same with one exception. Mr. Sam Burgdoff has been selected to replace Max Newman as treasurer. The membership of the club is composed of dealers and collectors. Some of the occupations of members include machinist, pharmacist, barber, antique dealer, welder.

The Liberty Bell Coin Club has already been credited with many firsts. This club was the first in the Phila. area to initiate the "auction sheet". This is a form sheet that members are required to fill out when they put their coins up at auction. Information regarding the condition of coin, red book price, minimum asking bid, and the purchaser's name. —Joseph Weinthraub, Secy.

The Montreal Coin Club, has elected Harold Allen club president.

CHARTER MEMBERS of the first school coin club in Canada pose after one of their twice-monthly meetings. Students at the High School of Montreal, they collect Canadian decimal coins and a wide variety of foreign bills, reflecting their diversified national origins. Exhibits in the school library are planned to arouse interest and attract new members. According to H. D. Allen, faculty advisor, who took and sent us this photo, members are anxious to treat numismatics as a serious study, and recently amended their constitution to require that every officer of the club must maintain a passing average in his school work to keep his post.

Formal presentation of 1st prize plaque - National Coin Week, awarded to H.A.N.A. on October 23, 1957.

Coin Club Founded in Erie, Pa.

A formulative meeting of the Erie County Coin Club was held at the Erie Public Museum on July 9, 1957. Since then the Club has been meeting monthly at the Museum.

At a recent meeting an election of officers was held. The following officers were elected: Paul Lawhead, President; Stephen Juskewycz, Vice Presiden; William Klevans, Treas; Jerry Dishinger, Secretary.

The Club now has a membership of sixteen members with an exceptionally good prospectus.

Except for special meetings, the Erie County Coin Club will continue to meet at the Erie Public Museum, 6th and Chestnut Streets, Erie, Pa., on the 2nd Tuesday of each month at 8:00 p.m. —Jerry Dishinger, Secy.

New Jersey Numismatic Society

The 287th meeting of the N. J. Numismatic Society was held on Thursday evening December 12th at the Military Park Hotel, Newark N. J. President Arthur Mershon presided. The inclement weather held the attendance down to the usual number but the Christmas party and the grab bag exchange of gifts was enjoyed by all present. Quantities of food and some to spare for the baby sitters.

Exhibitions were coins of religious significance and new items. Robert Williams had a Numis, Byzantine and a 1909 S.V.D.B. coin, the later picked up recently from circulation. J. A. Brown had Papel Saulo's. George Wait had a Greek 100 Drachme 1935 Proof. J. P. Ward had an 1804 Cent and a 1798 over 7 cent and a (Christmas) Pine Tree Shilling. Herbert Oechsner had an 1530 Christmas Half Taler, a rare Oxford Pound Silver and a 1616 Sommer Island Six Pence from the Roach Collection. The nominating committee made their selection of officers for 1958. The auction sceduled for this evening was postponed.

James A. Brown, Secy.-Treas.

NEWARK COIN CLUB MEETS

The 15th meeting of the Newark, New Jersey Coin Club was held on Tuesday evening Dec. 10th at the Newark Y.M.-Y.W.C.A. with twenty-seven in attendance and stormy weather held no fears for the serious collectors.

James A. Brown presided and in the absence of the secretary who was now marooned by the New York subway strike, the minutes were read by a stand-in George Wait. Communications were read and it seems the Secret Service is on the hunt for wayward Goldbacks. The collector of Federal Reserve Gold Notes now have competition in this field but the Treasury Department is only paying face value to reluctant sellers. The new article in the club Constitution pertaining to backward dues payers was passed on and was agreed by all.

—James A. Brown, Pres.
